Join the conference – submission details

Tailored to the needs of the Southeast Asian materials community, the combination of a technical conference and international exhibition is perfect for business, networking and learning.

Technical conference

At the heart of Stainless Steel World Asia is a technical conference covering a wide range of issues related to the manufacture, specification and use of stainless steel. Compiled by a Steering Committee of materials and industry experts, the program features speakers who are selected for their ability to share knowledge and experience in world-class presentations.

Presentation topics

If your presentation is about the application and use of stainless steel in the world around us, we want to hear from you! Key conference topics include, but are not limited to:

- Applications
- Architecture, Building, Construction
- Chemical/Petrochemical industries
- Digitalisation
- Duplex stainless steel
- Energy transition, renewables
- Material selection
- Offshore & subsea
- Oil & gas
- Welding & additive manufacturing

Submit your abstract

Submit your abstract to present at Stainless Steel World Asia Conference 2024. The online abstract submission is now open here: <https://bit.ly/sswa24abstract>. Abstracts should be 300-400 words long and must be submitted online before February 19, 2024.

Your presentation at Stainless Steel World Asia 2024 should provide us with your technical insights to drive ideas forward, overcome challenges, and highlight innovation.

Selection of presentations

The International Steering Committee will make the final selection of presentations. Its members will be particularly looking for original work, as well as:

- Quality of content
- Innovation, relevance, topicality
- Focus on application experience
- Presentation of case studies
- Practicality in terms of challenges and solutions
- Technical, NOT commercial

DEADLINE:

Join the exhibition – get down to business!

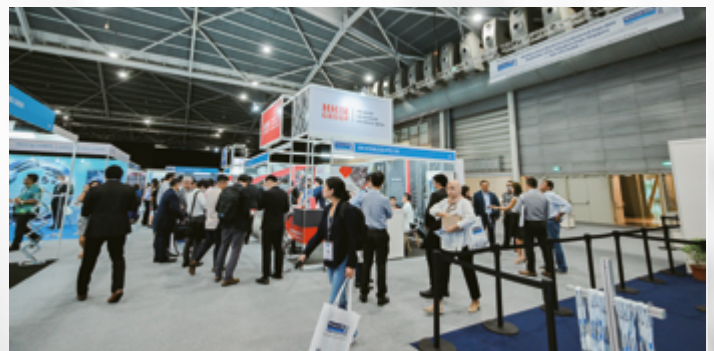

STAINLESS STEEL WORLD ASIA
Conference & Expo 2024

Join us at Stainless Steel World Asia on 11 & 12 September 2024 and enjoy unparalleled opportunities for networking and technology transfer in Singapore, the ASEAN region, Australasia and along the Pacific Rim. The exhibition brings together manufacturers, suppliers, fabricators and distributors - join us to broaden your network and business activities across the region.

International exhibition

The vibrant exhibition floor brings together manufacturers, suppliers, traders and (re)distributors of stainless steel and related technologies. This uniquely targeted event provides an excellent opportunity to meet with companies involved in all stages of production of materials AND to join together with the engineers, end users and decision-makers of the stainless steel industry during the conference!

Outstanding networking opportunities!

Stainless Steel World Asia is an interactive event focused on the corrosion-resistant alloy community. Experts and users meet to discuss practical experiences, innovations and new applications. With the conference room located on the exhibition floor, delegates, exhibitors, and visitors are free to meet and mingle. Long coffee and lunch breaks and networking receptions provide additional relaxed and effective networking opportunities.
